FALLEN TIMBER NOTES

Joe McGiffin and family were Carstairs visitors on Sunday.

The Burma Road did not stand up to weather conditions on Saturday night.

The Didsbury Hospital is a credit to the community. Many hospitals in larger cities are not as well equipped as it is well staffed by competent, experienced nurses, as follows: Matron, Miss Carter; assistants, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Glum, Mrs. Barrow and Miss Garner. We will hand the banner to Dr. Clarke as we consider that it is due to his untiring efforts over a number of years that secured the hospital for Didsbury.

Rev. Mrs. C. B. Moore, Four Square Evangelist, will hold her regular service in the Fallen Timber school house on Sunday next at 1 p.m.

We are watching the columns of the Pioneer for more effusions of the Burma Road poet. Come on Kenney, they are good.

Ray Texnor and Miss Susie Bruns were visitors at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bruns on Sunday last.

Bill Dick and wife have returned from the southern part of the province with a truck load of fruit and vegetables.

Bill McGiffin has trucked several loads of cattle out of the district in the last few days.

Organization Present

Tuesday evening, Aug. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer, sixty young people of the M.B.C. church enjoyed a delightful social.

Following this, coffee was again served, this time supplied by the hosts. Chorus were enjoyed by all. A portion of scripture was recited and prayer offered. Then the leaders of the two leading sides of the young people's contest which was held earlier in the summer, congratulated the winners.

Commendable Co-operation

AN EXAMPLE OF PRACTICAL co-operation which has received commendation from the press and from many other sources, is the present scheme for the exchange of labour between farmers of the Prairie Provinces and of Ontario during the harvest seasons in these two sections of the country. This year a number of Western farmers went to Ontario in mid-July to spend about a month helping with the harvest there. It is expected that, in turn, there will be a movement of farmers from the East when the crop here is ready to be taken in. Shortage of labour has been one of the most acute of the many problems with which farmers have had to contend during the difficult years since 1929. The war reduced farm manpower by unequating and a large number of those who left the farms were young men of military age, representing the most valuable type of help.

The Need For Greater Unity

There have been many schemes for alleviating the labour shortage, but most of these have provided only unskilled help and have not been at all times satisfactory to the farmer during the rush of the harvest season. The plan for the exchange of labour between experienced farmers of the East and West eliminates this disadvantage and provides skilled help for the harvest in many parts of the country. In addition to the very practical value of the scheme, in providing much-needed farm labour, it has been strongly commended as an example of the type of co-operation which is needed on a much larger scale between all parts of the Dominion, if we are to continue to grow as a nation. One of the greatest obstacles to national unity is the extent of our country. We are divided, by the geography of the land, into sections, and there is need to nullify the geographical barriers, and to break down the prejudices and misconceptions which stand in the way of complete accord.

May Lead To Desired Ends

It has been observed that the exchange of farm labour between East and West is one very practical way of bringing these two sections of the country into closer understanding. A farmer from the West, who spends several weeks working on a farm in Ontario, is likely to return with a clearer understanding of the problems and of the point of view of the man with whom he has worked; and the same would be true of the farmer from the East, who comes to work on the Prairies. For many years there has been a tendency for the Western farmer to question certain "subsidies" placed on some farm products in the East, while farmers in Ontario have not always looked with favour on "buses" and other measures designed to improve conditions of the prairie provinces. Agriculture is one of our largest industries, and if better understanding and closer co-operation is achieved between the farmers of the West and East through the exchange of labour, it may be an important step towards attaining the complete national unity which is desired by all thinking Canadians.

Jet-Propelled Auto

Expected To Attain Speed Of About 520 Miles Per Hour

Lt. Robert Morgan, 26, British Air Arm pilot, disclosed that he and associates had developed a jet-propelled auto which they hoped to drive at a speed of approximately 520 miles an hour. It consists of a single giant wheel, 12 feet in diameter, covered by a streamlined, pear-shaped body which is 23 feet long and 15 feet high. The lone wheel will revolve on oil bearings and Morgan will drive from a seat inside the wheel.

CLEARED MATTER UP

When subscribers on a party line at North Bay, Ont., complained to the telephone company that somebody was constantly listening in, it didn't take a trouble-shooter long to discover what they hoped to solve. In one home on the line an elderly woman was using the phone receiver as a dining cap to mend stockings.

Hey! Mister! Don't Dose Constipation!

Measure Glaciers

Members Of The Alpine Club Has Recorded Observations

For the purpose of conducting a systematic measuring of the recession and flow of certain selected glaciers in Jasper National Park, Major W. L. S. Pattison, of the Dominion Water and Power Bureau was at the camp of the Alpine Club of Canada in the Emment Valley for consultation with the glacier committee of the club.

For more than 20 years, the Alpine Club at its summer base has recorded observations made by its members regarding the movement of glaciers and these have been most valuable to authorities in Ottawa.

THREE ESSENTIALS

Three things are necessary for future world security, according to Field Marshal Montgomery: spiritual values, preparedness in case of war and a strong British Empire.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I very recently arrived in Canada with a group of English war brides. I would like to get some information on your price control regulations.

A.—British war brides, who want information on price ceilings and regulations, should write to the Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa, for literature relating to these subjects.

Q.—Will pork spare ribs be included in the rationed meats?

A.—Pork spare ribs are not rationed.

Q.—Where do I take the "short leave" ration cards that my son left when he was home on his last leave?

A.—You take them to your local ration board where they will exchange them for coupons that you may use for rationed food.

Q.—Is it right that no one can now move to Winnipeg and rent or occupy family quarters without a permit from the Administrator of Emergency Shelter?

A.—Yes, Winnipeg has now been included in the list of cities which have declared Emergency Shelter Areas. The eight areas are Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Hull.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

SMILE AWHILE

"What's your name?" the grocer asked the young applicant for the job.

"Scott—Walter Scott," the boy replied.

"That's a pretty well-known name," remarked the grocer, smiling.

"It ought to be," the boy said proudly. "I've been delivering groceries around here for two years."

Lady Gush: "Can you imagine anything more terrible than the time when a great singer realizes that she is losing her voice?"

Professor: "Yes, madam, the time when she can't realize it."

The big Irish sergeant, officiating as master of ceremonies at the military ball, announced: "The next number will be a snake dance."

"I say, sergeant," asked a buck private, "what's a snake dance?"

The sergeant, gave the private a withering look.

"It's to give them that snake in an opportunity to shake out," he replied.

Detest: The thing for you to do is to stop thinking about your work to busy yourself in your work.

Patience: Gosh! And me a concrete mixer.

"How did you know your husband won $500 playing cards?"

"He told me," she said.

"How did you get it away from him?"

"I walk in his sleep."

"Come, come, Joan, surely you know if the world is round or square?"

"Yes, Mary, tell her."

"It's cracked, teacher," said Mary darily.

Pat joined the engineers and was forming bridge building. At a single plank Pat paused doubtfully.

"What's the matter, Pat," said the instructor, "afraid to walk on it?"

"No," replied Pat. "I'm not afraid to walk on it. What I'm afraid of is walking off it."

"That new farm hand is terribly ignorant."

"How's that?"

"He found some milk bottles in the grass and insisted he had found a cow's nest."

Employer (to applicant for position of secretary): "I hope you realize the importance of punctuality."

Applicant: "Oh, yes. I always get to work on time."

Huchbold: "This is a remarkable book. It proves how marvellous, how stupendous is nature. Whenever I read something like this I realize how lowly and insignificant man is."

Wife: "A woman doesn't have to wade through four hundred pages to learn that!"

It is estimated that between 40 and 50 per cent. of the professional Japanese soldiers have studied English, and that 25 per cent. speak it efficiently.

Keeps Lone Vigil

News Comes From A Man Who Is Stationed In Darkest Africa

From the heart of darkest Africa as the misadventures used to call it—comes news of the loneliest man in the British Army.

His black boys call him "Bimbashi Weeks," but his army has him as Capt. H. R. Weeks, of the Sudan Defence Force. Nearly 1,000 miles from the nearest outpost, this 21-year-old Robinson Crusoe has kept his remote vigil in the mountains of the moon for 18 months and still likes it.

Talings of this guardian of the Empire were brought to London by Capt. Geoffrey Edwards, former newspaperman, now public relations officer for Middle East Command, who met Weeks on the wind-blown Boma plateau which dominates the secret slave trade routes into Abyssinia.

Capt. Weeks lives in a lion-skin hut, and spends his leisure hunting butterflies and exotic wild birds. The rarest he sends to the British museum. For food he often has a tasty gazelle steak, washed down with beer brought from the Eleanora Camp at the foot of the mountains.

The end of Capt. Edwards' account was typically British. After three days together—the only white men in an area as big as Nova Scotia—when it came to saying goodbye Capt. Edwards said: "Well, old chap, we must meet and have one when we get back to town."

"Sure," said Weeks, "how do I get in touch with you back home?"

"Either at the News Chronicle or at my job in the Foreign Office in Sussex," said Edwards.

"Ferring?" Weeks asked. "I live there, too."

And they found—like so many Englishmen who have never been properly introduced—that they live on the same street.

Humor Of London

Was Noted In A Variety Of Ways On VE Day

A little footnote on VE day as it appeared to me: You've heard all about the milling millions, their good nature, the resounding delight with which they greeted the news of their victory as they came again and again to the bakery of their home. But I wonder if anyone told you that one of the war babies played the triumphant legend in chalk—"The Bus That Hitler Missed." And witness the victory parade in the streets chalked up by a newboy on his blackboard in Trafalgar Square: "There'll always be an England. There'll always be a Britain. Once at Football. (Three goals to nothing)." B.C. London Letter.

Has New Method

Dentist In Texas Uses Compressed Air For Drilling Teeth

Dr. Robert B. Black, of Corpus Christi, Tex., has developed a new method of drilling teeth which employs a very fine, almost pinpoint stream of compressed air carrying a fine abrasive.

The apparatus has no moving parts.

Moving parts in conventional drills cause the grinding sound, the heat, the vibration and the pain objected to by patients. Dr. Black said in an article in the Journal of the American Dental Association.

"Patients upon whom this instrument has been used have a definite preference for it," he said.

MEET A CWAC—

"You have no idea how grand just the word 'Canada' sounded when we were so far from home," stated Pte. Gladys I. Hannah of 444 Alder Ave., Moose Jaw, Sask., who has recently returned from overseas. "It's grand to be back." Pte. Hannah enlisted in the Canadian Women's Army Corps in July, 1942 and received her Basic Training in Regina, Sask. Later she was posted to Q.M. Stores, where she worked until she went on a recruiting tour with a CWAC Recruiting Unit. Next came an instructors' course at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que., where she remained as an instructor for ten months. At the completion of a stenographer's course, Pte. Hannah received a posting as a dining clerk at Farnham, Ont. She proceeded overseas in Sept. 1941. "We did the usual sight-seeing while in London," Pte. Hannah said, "and we made use of our longer leave by visiting other parts of the British Isles: such as York, York and Scotland." At present Pte. Hannah is a dining clerk with the Central Registry, No. 12 District Depot, Regina, Sask.

"HOME AWAY FROM HOME IN BELGIUM"

The task of trying to make a roughly constructed Army Nissen tent a "home away from home" is not the easiest in the world, but members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps stationed in Belgium have been doing just that, and the results they have achieved are truly astounding. The huts, constructed of corrugated sheet metal, in long cylindrical shapes, do not lend themselves readily to the home touch, but under the nimble fingers of the Army girls they have taken on bright and cheery atmospheres. The drabness of long rows of beds covered with grey army blankets has been relieved by the addition of gaily colored patchwork, quilts, a gift of the Red Cross. Friendly Belgian citizens have contributed individual barack boxes and bedside tables. These are invariably topped with pictures from home, and gay little noisettes, picked up in a score of countries, are tacked to the sleeping quarters, in a second hut that is used as a recreation room. It is here the girls gather for evening snacks and to talk about their work, their homes and the eventual return to "Civvie Street." Although their working hours are long and tedious, the girls are having fun and making the most of their experiences. They will have many interesting and unusual stories to tell when they return to their homes in Canada.

WEDDING BELLS—

Of interest to friends in Saskatchewan, is the military wedding ceremony held in England recently, when Sgt. Margaret H. Glover, CWAC, Glenavon, Sask., became the bride of CQMS John P. Johnson of Moose Jaw, Sask. Sgt. Kay Kiddie, CWAC of Calgary, Alta., was the bride's only attendant, and Mr. H. Bates, of Derby, England, uncle of the bride, was best man. The bride and groom wore their khaki uniforms. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bates. Sgt. Glover enlisted in the Canadian Women's Army Corps in April, 1942. She has been serving overseas for the past two and a half years and is employed as supervising clerk in the Claims Section of Canadian Military Headquarters, London.

London's Ancient Fortress, The Tower Of London, is Still Always Locked Up For The Night

(By Michael Standing in London Calling)

LONDON'S ancient fortress, His Majesty's Tower of London, is still ceremonially locked up for the night. When the hands of the Tower Clock say five minutes to ten, the Chief Warden, with a military escort, is already on his way to perform exactly the same ritual that his predecessors have carried through for centuries.

Every night in fair weather or foul, war or peace, and even during the London blitz, it has continued. Sometimes during the last few years, when the Tower was ringed with fires from the burning city, it was short of its trappings and reduced to the barest essentials. Tin hats took the place of Tudor bonnets, and time-honoured custom flung itself temporarily to the ground at the swish of an approaching bomb. But today it is the "Ceremony of the Keys" again, handed down in some part almost from the days of William the Conqueror.

No one can say exactly when it started, or when it assumed the form that still survives. But when you stand there and watch it unfold, the very fact that the origins are lost in the mists of time somehow gives an added color to the proceedings. You can persuade yourself, if you like, that you are back for a few minutes in the medieval days of the Plantagenets, in a plot-ridden Tudor world, or in the troubled times of the Stuarts. In any case, the ceremony and its setting would quicken the dullist imagination.

To see it through, you stand first on a stretch of roadway called Water Lane. It used to be cobbled, and runs on the river side between the inner and outer walls of the Tower. The slender, bearded archway of the square-built tower in front of you—the Bloody Tower—is deep black; but through the opening you see the moonlight catch the bayonet of the sentry who stands guard outside the Jewel House just beyond. Bayonet is it? Or picket? Behind you, a broad Norman archway through the outer wall—once the main gateway from the river, but now no longer—catches the low light of the road. Kings and queens, princes and nobles—the unhappy procession steps for a moment out of history and becomes again for you: some on their way to the scaffold on Tower Green; some to the dungeons; some, like the two princes, to end their young lives in the Bloody Tower.

Already in the roadway the Escort to the Keys is drawn up: four men from the Tower garrison, a sergeant, two privates, and a drummer, in khaki battledress—or is it leather jerkins?

Drawn to the left you hear foot-steps, and you see a dim lantern swinging there by the Byward Tower. A figure steps out from the shadow. It is the Chief Warden, in his long red coat, and his black Tudor bonnet trimmed with red, white, and blue roses. Like his fellow Yeoman Warders, he is a decorated, gallant and meritorious discharged sergeant from the army.

The little detachment moves off towards the first gateway, the barbican, at the outer barrier, the old stockade. They cross the bridge over the old moat and go on through the Middle Tower.

There is a clank of iron and a rattle of keys as the Chief Warden, now joined by the Watchman—a Yeoman Warder in modern uniform—the "barlet" who once earned a halfpenny a night for his labours—closes the gates and locks them. Exactly the same ceremony is repeated as they lock the great oak doors of the Middle Tower and at the Byward Tower. So is the Tower of London shut for the night, just as it was when its walls enclosed the Arsenal, the Mint, the Treasury, and the Crown Jewels, and when its dungeons held dangerous prisoners of state.

There is a tramp of footsteps again in Water Lane as the Keys are escorted back. From beneath the black teeth of the raised portcullis under the Bloody Tower, a sentry challenges: "Hail, who goes there?"

"The Keys."
"Whose Keys?"
"King George's Keys."
"Pass King George's Keys, All's Well."

The little group moves on through the archway and to the Main Guard drawn up almost in the shadow of the great four-towered White Tower. Central Keep of William the Conqueror's fortress that still dominates its surroundings today. The Guard presents arms in salute to the Keys. The Chief Warden, raising his bonnet, cries "God Preserve King George," and then withdraws to return the keys to the Governor's quarters in King's House—overlooking Tower Green.

The strains of "God Save the King" come from a band on the parade ground. The mellow chiming of the Tower Clock float out over the battlements. The Last Post sounds and echoes round the walls. Another "Ceremony of the Keys" is ended. Another brief phrase has been written in the long, long history of the Tower. And a night-time stillness settles again upon Tower Hill.

Ermine Is Weasel

More Than Three Quarters Of A Million Pelts Sold At High Prices

On a yearly average, more than three-quarters of a million weasels are sold at fur auction sales in Canada. They are bought by fur manufacturers to trim many a well-dressed woman's coat. They are caught in every province, with Saskatchewan in first place. In 1944, out of a total of 800,000 sold, about 250,000 came from Saskatchewan and Alberta contributed 180,000 and Ontario 142,000. The average price per skin last year was $1.65, compared with 48 cents five years ago. The fur of weasel is still under the trade name of ermine.

MANY OCEAN FLIGHTS

Trans-Canada Air Lines, which operates the Canadian Government Trans-Atlantic air service between Montreal and Britain, announces that three of the company's captains and one radio operator have completed more than one hundred north Atlantic crossings. During the European war, T.C.A. carried mail to the services, cargo and passengers who had established the national importance of their mission.

STILL BACK HITLER

Sgt. Alexander Enright, 36-year-old Creech who is in the investigation branch of the Allied military government at Stuttgart, said that a poll taken by a German agent for the I.A.M.G. showed that at least 50 per cent of the German people still took Adolf Hitler's part.

EDUCATION IN CHINA

Education in China has gone forward despite the war. Comparing the 1937 and 1943 figures it is seen that the number of universities and technical colleges increased by almost 50 per cent, while the number of students increased more than 100 per cent.

SPANISH FOR PASS

The Swiss border metropolis of El Paso means "the pass" in Spanish. The name was taken from the Spanish phrase, "El Paso del Norte" for "the pass to the north" through the mountains on which the city is built.

World's Noted Climbers At Alpine Club Camp

Climbers from many parts of the world attended the 40th annual meeting of the Alpine Club of Canada, in Frontville, Jasper National Park, recently. Many important mountain ranges were, and their peaks scaled, and much information was added to the official records of the Club. Above can be seen the beautiful setting for the camp, in a well-wooded mountain valley. In the foreground is R. S. Sisson, 58-year-old veteran from Alberta, who is the oldest climber at the camp. He graduated in 1912. Below are three members of the armed services, left to right: Lieut. G. Hanson, R.C.A.F.; N.V.R.; Montreal; F.O.D.S. Arbuckle, R.C.A.P.; Edmonton; Major Rex Gibson, R.C.A.; Edmonton, who climbed many peaks together.

In The Himalayas

Alman Find A Bit Of Canada In The High Mountains

Seven thousand feet up in the Himalayas, looking out upon the Tibetan snows and the towering Kanchenjunga Range, is a tiny patch of Canada which acts as a magnet attracting hundreds of Canadian alpinists on leave from Burma and East-India.

It is the Darjeeling home of Major and Mrs. John Brebner of Toronto whose door always is open for holidaying Canadians from the fighting fronts. Many alpinists have remarked that going into the Brebner household is like going home.

The R.C.A.P. told of this little spot of Canada in a release. Major Brebner, who joined the Indian Medical Service in 1935, has been stationed in Darjeeling for three years as civil surgeon responsible for health services in a district of 60,000 persons. In these years he and his wife and their two small sons have provided hospitality, entertainment and a reminiscent sample of Canadian home life for hundreds of Canadian servicemen.

Alpinists to whom war life is centered around a dusty airfield enter the Brebner living room to find Canadian prints on the walls, comfortable chairs set before a fireplace, a radio, phonograph, inviting bookcases and a friendly pair of dogs. Tea is forthcoming at any hour and as often as not there are waffles with honey, roast hot dogs and hamburgers and even pumpkin pie.

Though busy with voluntary work and official duties, Mrs. Brebner finds time to run her household smoothly under conditions which might stagger a hotel manager. A meal begins with three guests and may end with eight, but despite rationing the kitchen meets all demands.

For alpinists serving in Burma a visit to Darjeeling involves a "rip" by air to Calcutta, then an overnight train journey to Siliguri. From there a miniature two-foot gauge railway spirals upward for 50 miles.

Most visitors stay at hotels and rest camps in Darjeeling. A fortunate few can be accommodated in the Brebner home, where the guest-rooms are never empty.

Rare Spectacle

Huge Sperm Whale Swam Up The Churchill River

Excitement reigned on the waterfront at Churchill recently, when a huge sperm whale swam slowly up the Churchill river on the incoming tide. It passed within a few yards of the Hudson's Bay company schooner Severn and those watching this rare spectacle claim the whale was easily 20 feet long, his tail estimated 12 feet wide. This is the first time that a sperm whale has ventured this far north in the bay for a good many years. The visitor didn't stay long. It returned to the bay before high tide.

KNOW LITTLE ABOUT WAR

You might get a vague idea of the vague idea the Japanese people have about the progress of the war from a Domesday report that an enthusiastic crowd turned out for a rally of the Society for Bombing America.

Experiments Conducted By The University Of Saskatchewan To Determine Strength Of Straw

BECAUSE of the rapid increase in the use of combines in the west, the University of Saskatchewan is conducting experiments in the strength of straw. Dr. J. B. Harrington, cerealist and professor of field husbandry, announced. While strong straw is considered an asset to any variety of grain, particularly in the more moist farming areas, Dr. Harrington has of late risen markedly in its importance to the farmer. Dr. Harrington said:

"Not only must a variety stand up until it is ripe but it is necessary that it be capable of continuing to stand, patiently awaiting harvest for a week or two after it is ripe," he said.

Owing to the importance of "after-maturity" stress tolerance, the field husbandry department recently began to record straw strength, not only prior to maturity and at maturity, but one, two or three weeks after maturity.

For many years hundreds of replicated plot tests of grain varieties have been made at experimental stations. But the information on straw strength was obtained at the maturity of the grain. Such notes weaknesses of varieties but they failed to show what happened to the stronger varieties when they were exposed to the winds and rains for protracted periods after they were ripe. Dr. Harrington said.

The results of the experiments carried out by the field husbandry department have been most valuable, he said. In a six replicate 31 variety test of wheat varieties in 1944, the straw strength at maturity ranged from 96 per cent to 98 per cent, with the exception of one variety which averaged 85 per cent. The differences between varieties were almost negligible and only one variety revealed definite weaknesses.

After-maturity straw strength notes taken approximately 17 days after the average maturity of the varieties were much more revealing, Dr. Harrington said. Only 12 of the varieties ranked as strong; eleven were mid-strong; four were still lower in straw strength and three were mid-weak with one weak.

The results showed that harvest time notes on straw strength did not give an accurate comparison of the ability of varieties to remain standing for days or weeks after they ripened, he said.

Must Work Together

Russia Has Right To Expect Co-operation From Poland

Russia inevitably sees every problem of Eastern Europe against the background of the German invasion. Russia's tremendous recovery enabled her to clear her own territory, liberate Poland, and march right into Berlin.

But the scorched Russian earth, the smoke-blackened shells of her cities, remain.

Never again, says the Russians, and they are entitled to expect a Polish government to work with them for the security of the Western frontier.

Now the Poles have taken a great step towards unity in friendship with Russia. The people of Britain rejoice, and acknowledge yet again the integrity of Russia's world in affairs—London Daily Express.

Electrification Program

Expect To Bring Electricity To Half The Farmers In Alberta

The first project of a nine-year rural electrification program which will cost $30,000,000 and will bring electricity to nearly half the farms in Alberta, will be undertaken by the Calgary Power company when work is begun on 150 farms in the Olds district.

This was announced by F. T. Gale, superintendent of rural electrification for the company, who has just completed an intensive survey of the province to determine the areas which will first receive the power and light services.

REMOTE CONTROL

A prediction that virtually all offensive operations in the rest war would be done by remote control, with the personal combat element almost eliminated, was made by U.S. Gen. William E. Donovan. He pictures whole fleets of robot bombs under command of a directing "brain" ship, flying waste an entire city.

EARLY ENTERPRISE

An early American enterprise was the shipping of ice from New England to the tropics. The ice was packed in white pine sawdust, and the Americans promoted its sale by showing the natives how to make ice cream and iced drinks.

Ambulance originally meant a movable hospital and during the Crimean war it came to mean a vehicle for the conveyance of the sick.

A GOOD SECRETARY LEAVES HIS POSITION

It is with regret that we chronicle in this issue the resignation of Mr. W. A. Austin, who has been secretary-treasurer of the Town of Didsbury for the past twenty-five years.

Mr. Austin has been an excellent secretary and has devoted his time and ability towards making Didsbury a better place in which to live, and his efforts have had the desired results. We can remember faintly the time that the town of Didsbury was struggling under a heavy debt and taxes were up in the clouds, so to speak. Didsbury was considered a good place to stay out of business, and to steer clear of if one had any money to invest in property. After Mr. Austin took over the position of secretary, and town solicitor, he devoted considerable time to straightening out the Town's financial difficulties, and it was not many years before Didsbury was back on its feet and the taxes had been brought in line with other towns, and at the same time the Town was piling up a surplus. For this task, if for nothing else, the citizens of Didsbury owe their gratitude to Mr. Austin.

While we are sorry to see Mr. Austin relinquish his position, we know that he is doing it as his own free will, and we can only wish him continued success in his entire devotion to his law practice in the town of Didsbury.

COUNTER STRATEGY

"There will be a wave of strikes after the war," said the President of the Automobile Workers Union. "There will be strikes wherever there are unsettled grievances."

There are going to be plenty of unsettled grievances. Some grievances will be just and will be justly dealt with by sound management and sound labor. But some will be caused by reactionary employers trying to clamp down on labor. Others will be deliberately stirred up by factions among the workers out for their own selfish ends to gain control of industry—and government.

"The methods of these fellows are as old as the hills," said another union leader. They: (1) sell everybody the idea they are getting a raw deal; (2) attack the rules of the game and everybody who upholds them; (3) promise the world; (4) pick a scapegoat to blame for everything; (5) keep folks in the dark; (6) tell them what great leaders they have; (7) then lead them over the cliff.

Such methods make the blood boil in every honest Canadian. The trouble is that boiling blood makes bad blood, or makes us blood thirsty. It leads us to take steps that are often just as un-Canadian as the other fellow's. And that are unavailing.

You can't meet such tactics with denunciation, imprisonment or deportation. You can't kill weeds by lopping off their heads. That only strengthens their roots.

The effective counter strategy is something else. It is to build sound men, and homes, and companies and unions, teaching them sound thinking and sound teamwork.

Teach them that raw deals come to people, and will always come to people who have no responsibility or care for building up square dealers. Teach them to play by the rules of the game. Democracy is based on rules—a government of law, not of men. Teach them to live by faith in God, not by the promises of self-seeking politicians. Teach them that the sound way to move ahead is to do better yourself—not to blame the other fellow. You can teach this to others if you yourself live that kind of a life. Then they will come out of the dark. Then you can lead them up the hill ahead—and away from the edge of the cliff on which our whole society right now is tottering.

FEEDING HOGS ON WHEAT

(By H.G.L. Strange)

It is the rather general practice among feeders of hogs to increase gradually the barley ration until the hogs are ready for market at around 200 pounds. Some farmers, however, follow the practice of using wheat up to about 40 per cent of the ration. In recent years some quite large hog feeders on the prairies have adopted the practice of feeding wheat entirely, without any oats and barley. To the young hogs after they have reached what is called the feeder age, that is around 40 to 50 pounds weight, grinding the wheat and adding to it, so that it is all thoroughly mixed, 8 percent of tankage, and using self-feeders, with lots of clear drinking water readily available. Those hog feeders who are using wheat alone with tankage claim they are obtaining as high a percentage of selects as those who feed barley. Claiming there is no virtue in feeding hogs barley and oat hulls which the animals cannot digest.

I have just visited one of these large hog feeding farms using wheat and tankage exclusively and I must say that what I saw certainly appears to confirm the claims made for feeding wheat and tankage.

MORE BEEKEEPERS

In 1924 the number of beekeepers in Canada was 22,200 and they looked after 280,000 bee colonies. By 1944 the number of beekeepers had increased to 40,700 and the number of bee colonies to 508,500. It is anticipated that further increases will be recorded in 1945.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor, "Pioneer"

Dear Sir: Please allow me space in the "Pioneer" for this letter, especially for the young people of the community.

We seldom read letters or articles in our papers dealing with the dangers and evils of liquor, but our papers are full of news that should serve as warning to all that liquor is a curse not only to users of it, but to all who may be within their reach, especially on our streets and highways. Few accidents or crimes cannot be traced directly or indirectly to the use of beverage alcohol. Liquor is also the cause of many broken homes and divorces as well as many children not receiving proper care. How can a mother or father give proper attention to homes and families when they spend so much time and money on something that will harm their bodies and lessen their ability to earn.

Looking into the Holy Scriptures we find the wise King Solomon proclaiming in Proverbs 20:1 "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." This is proven not only because it is the Word of God, but by the effect it has on the human body and mind. It gives a feeling of well-being which leads to carelessness and thoughtlessness and at the same time causes harm that at first is not noticed. The deceitfulness of alcohol is proven when one takes a drink to keep warm when exposed to intense cold. It gives a sense of warmth when in fact it deadens the feeling. In that condition one can freeze without knowing it.

Many resort to liquor in times of trouble or distress. This may take their minds from their trouble but it adds to their troubles rather than helping them, thus proving the foolishness of its use.

I am sure that there are few who do not realize these facts but this may serve as a reminder and to warn young people of the dangers that face them. Young people—remember that it is not the smart thing to do to yield to the temptation to take a drink. It takes a better man or woman to say "no" than to say "yes". Any dead fish can float downstream but it takes a healthy one to swim upstream.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me this space. Yours sincerely, STUART HOOVER

NOTE—Letters to the Editor, to insure publication, must be kept down to 300 words. If at all possible. Otherwise there is very little chance of having them appear in The Pioneer.

Total sales of Canada's Eighth Victory Loan reached a figure of $1,568,827,350. The objective was $1,350,000,000.

LIVE STOCK MARKETING

Every possible effort should be made to avoid the peak fall period in the marketing of live stock, says G. S. Black, Live Stock Supervisor.

The ideal system of marketing would be to arrange uniform marketing for each month of the year and in that way prevent peak loads and low periods. Peak loads result in more critical buying, severe grading, and extreme pressure on the labour in the plants. All of which means less money returned to the grower, not only for the live stock marketed in the crowded period but until prices are raised, which often takes considerable time.

October and November are the months when congested markets are most likely to occur. Steers and heifers in good condition should be marketed properly in September. Failing this an effort should be made to withhold cattle wherever possible until the peak period is over.

In Alberta this year, large areas lack feed and pasture. Many farmers must market their live stock immediately before frost finishes pastures. On the other hand, farmers in certain areas have plenty of both feed and pasture and can hold their live stock until the rush has passed.

Playing safe with TEXTILES

The supply of textiles is not adequate to the demand. For six years, most of the world output has gone to war. Victory has not improved the situation.

There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

Canada depends largely on other sources for raw materials and for some yarns and fabrics.

A serious manpower shortage still confronts the textile industry of all Allied countries.

Shortages overseas must be met. It will take months before production is resumed in Europe.

Substantial quantities of all kinds of textiles are still required by occupational forces.

Domestic demand for textiles increased sharply during the war. It is still going up.

Civilian clothing needs of returning servicemen and women are swelling the demand here at home.

CONSERVATION IS THE KEYNOTE

This year, production directives have again been issued to the textiles industry.

They are intended to divert output to more essential goods.

But directives alone cannot cure a situation arising from world conditions.

The answer lies in conservation. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.

Whyte Smith and Mrs. Smith, of Didsbury, Alberta, Canada, and Miss Stella Hall, Nursing Sister, London Chest Hospital, only daughter of Mrs. Gladys Hall, 6 Sloane Gate Mansions, Sloane Square, London, S.W.1, and Naburn York, were united in marriage. The Rev. A.J. de C. Studdert, officiated, and Dr. V.E.A. Bowley was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Owen Gwatkin, was dressed in a blue satin and lace frock, with an old Yorkshire lace veil to match and wore a gold locket, a gift of the bridegroom.

The Bridal bouquet was of pink tea garden roses, and the bride was attended by Miss Irene Collinson, London, and Miss Kathleen Gwatkin, Godalming, the former wearing an old English lavender taffeta gown, and the latter in turquoise blue. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of mixed sweet peas. Miss Collinson wore a jade necklace, and Miss Gwatkin a silver bracelet, gifts of the bridegroom.

Sgt. E.G. Christiansen, C.A.C., of San Luis Obispo, California, friend of the bridegroom, was best man, and the groomsmen were Flying Officer Robert McCrindle, RCAF, Montreal, and Flight Sergeant Eric Wallace, R.A.F., of York.

A reception and garden party for seventy guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gwatkin, "Westmount," Tulseley Lane, Godalming. Guests included relatives of the bride's from York, London and Tunbridge Wells, and a number of friends of the bridegroom from 4 Cdn Repatriation Depot.

Following the reception Sgt. and Mrs. Smith left for a fortnight's honeymoon at Shere, well known beauty spot of Surrey.

BRITISH AMERICAN OIL CO. PURCHASE BUSINESS OF THE UNION OIL CO. OF CANADA

Purchase of the business and the physical assets of the Union Oil Co. of Canada by the British American Oil Company Limited was announced today by W.K. Whiteford, President of the British American Oil Company Limited. Union Oil of Canada is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Union Oil of California and has been one of the large marketers of petroleum products in British Columbia and Alberta. In addition to its retail outlets and distribution, Union Oil has extensive marine bunkering and storage facilities located in Vancouver Harbor.

In Vancouver to complete the deal with Union Oil Company officials are A.H. Miller, Vice-President in charge of sales of The British American Oil Company; J.C. Hall, Regional Sales Manager, Western Region, of B.A. Oil.

By the deal B.A. Oil extends its marketing activities from coast to coast and the added volume of business accruing to B.A. through the acquisition of Union outlets will establish British American Oil as the leading independent Canadian marketer of petroleum products in B.C.—a position the Company enjoys throughout the rest of Canada.

It is understood that all former employees of Union Oil of Canada have been invited to join the staff of B.A. Oil.

Interviewed Wednesday, A. H. Miller stated the expansion of British American Oil to the West coast implements one phase of the Company's postwar plans. The large marine terminal storage and excellent harbor facilities now afforded B.A. Oil will place the Company in a position to actively participate in the export market which the Company anticipates will continue to develop.

Organized under Ontario Charter in 1906 as an independent Canadian Company, British American Oil in 1909 took out a Dominion Charter and expanded into the Quebec area. Through purchase of the Winnipeg Oil Company in 1920, the Company entered the Prairie Provinces, and in 1934, started to move into B.C., consolidating its position as far westward as the East Kootenays and Okanagan Valley before wartime controls put a stop to further expansion. The Company had entered the Maritimes in 1935 and only the war interfered with the further expansion and rapid growth of the Company in this territory.

British American is a completely integrated Company owning its own crude oil wells, gathering and pipe lines, refineries, marine and inland bulk storage and marketing facilities. Crude oil is processed in 5 refineries located at Montreal, Toronto, Clarkson, Ont., Moose Jaw and Calgary. The Clarkson Refinery, opened in the fall of 1943 for the manufacture of aviation gasoline and lubricating oils, is regarded as the most modern and completely integrated lubricating oil refinery in the Dominion.

FRUIT CROP FAILURE

Ontario's fruit crop is the poorest in recorded history due to bad weather. Early in the spring the weather was very warm and this was followed by frost and weeks of cold and dampness. Apples, pears, cherries and plums have been hard hit in particular. The result is that fruit rationing is likely to continue for another year.

Championship Victory Garden Helps Feed Family of 18

NEAR-PERFECT SCORE: The 200 by 50 foot plot (above), which has been adjudged the best victory garden on the Island of Montreal this year, helps feed the eight grown children and eight grandchildren of Joseph Totta (inset), section foreman for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal West. Totta works an hour before going on duty at 7 a.m. and three hours after quitting time at 1 p.m. in growing 22 different vegetables, many of which Mrs. Totta canned or put down, as her share in supplementing the commercially grown vegetable supply needed to alleviate the food shortage in Europe. Judges for The Montreal Star contest, which Totta won, called his garden "without doubt the finest vegetable garden ever entered in the competition" and gave him 28 out of a possible 30 points for quality. They looked in vain for weeds and pests and particularly remarked on his four-inch-deep cultivation, a valuable aid to moisture conservation.

With 42,346 miles of tracks, Canadian railways were the chief conveyors of raw materials to war factories and finished products to seaports, the United States and junction points. From 1939 to 1944 freight shipped by rail increased 83 per cent.

CANADA'S NINTH VICTORY LOAN OPENS OCTOBER 22

Canada's Ninth Victory Loan will open on October 22nd and will be the biggest ever floated in this country. The Hon. J. L. Seely announced Monday. The loan will cover Canada's borrowing needs for the next twelve months. The Minister of Finance explained, making it unnecessary to have another campaign next spring.

One large loan now instead of two smaller loans, one now and another in the spring of 1946, will mean a real saving of time, effort and expense, he said. It is possible to aim for a full year's needs in one loan because Canada's borrowing requirements over the next twelve months will not be as large as they have been in recent years. Victory has been won in Europe and in the Pacific. The end of hostilities means the end of many war costs. But, we now face new tasks. And these new tasks bring new needs. So, total outlays and borrowing requirements will continue at high levels.

For instance, men in hundreds of thousands must be brought back to their homeland from overseas. This will take time because of shipping shortages and continuing operations in occupied areas. Meanwhile, they must be paid, fed, housed and cared for in a hundred-and-one different ways. This all costs money—large amounts of it. Then, the wounded and the sick must be restored to health. Veterans will be given a good start in civilian life. Many will be trained for new jobs. War service gratuities and re-establishment credits will be paid. These and other rehabilitation outlays involve hundreds of millions of dollars.

The minimum objectives for the new loan are the largest in Victory Loan history. They reflect the two loans in one feature of the 9th Victory Loan, the continued need for saving, and the new level of borrowing requirements.

As individuals, Canadians know the value of Victory Bonds—the value of a reserve of savings to meet future needs and wants. With twelve months to pay for 9th Loan Bonds, many Canadians will buy double the amount of their purchases in earlier loans, and most others will buy more than before.

The 9th Victory Loan will be Canada's Greatest Victory Loan.

ENSURE SEED SUPPLIES NOW

There is likely to be a shortage of good seed oats and barley for the 1946 planting. Farmers are urged by the Field Crops Commissioner, A.M. Wilson, to make every effort to save good crops for seed purposes. During harvest, says Mr. Wilson, there is an opportunity to select and save the cleanest parts of the crop for seed. These parts should then be threshed and stored separately. Weed seeds are particularly different to remove from oats and barley, and unless the grain is relatively clean when threshed there is little opportunity to obtain seed of satisfactory quality by cleaning. Farmers who have been unfortunate in the loss of their crops through hail, drought or other causes, should arrange with neighboring farmers if possible, to obtain the seed they may require for another year. Some may have sufficient grain held over from previous years that could be cleaned to suitable grades. If local supplies are not available the Alberta Department of Agriculture will make every effort to locate some.

Oats and barley are generally low in yield. There is an exceptionally strong demand, and unless prompt action is taken to obtain seed, difficulties may be experienced.

The number of Canadian merchant seamen manning Canada's foreign-going merchant ships rose from 1,460 to 8,350 during the war. War took its toll of them, as indicated by the following casualty figures: 1,034 dead or missing and 189 taken prisoner up to March 31, 1945.

During the war Canada has become the leading exporter of base metals. Of the combined output of the United Nations, Canada contributed 94 per cent of the nickel, 75 per cent of the asbestos and 32 per cent of the aluminum produced.

Your Support IS VITAL TO RATIONING Mr. and Mrs. Farmer

With other groups, you play a part so that everyone gets a fair share

Under the rationing regulations, you are asked to collect and turn in the coupons you acquire against the use and sale of butter and, when meat rationing is introduced again, of meat; and the coupons you get from the sale of honey and rationed maple products. So that you may buy other meats from your butcher, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in your ration book and in those of your household need be surrendered. To make it easy to send in coupons, you are provided with RB-61 envelopes which should be forwarded once a month to your Local Ration Board. No postage is required.

The RETAILER

The retailer also plays a part. He must obtain coupons or other valid ration documents against every sale he makes of rationed foods—butter, sugar, preserves meat. Otherwise, he cannot replenish his stocks. He must paste all coupons on gummed sheets and endorse food sales total $2,500 or more, he is required to operate a ration coupon bank account. He must also give valid ration documents or a ration cheque to his food.

The HOUSEWIFE

The housewife, too, has rationing work to do. She must know the validity and expiry dates of butter, sugar, preserves and, later, meat coupons so that she can make supplies of these foods last. She must know the coupon values of all rationed preserves and meats. She has to understand the sugar alternative of the preserves coupon in order to do as much home canning as possible and still have coupons for honey, syrups and other preserves. She must guard family ration books carefully and give up coupons for every purchase she makes of a rationed food.

Crude Oil

Figures Are Given For Production Of Oil And Gas In April

Output of crude petroleum and natural gasoline in April totalled 692,889 barrels, compared with 770,534 in the preceding month and 842,976 in the corresponding month of last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported. Alberta's output was recorded at 678,516 barrels, of which the Turner Valley field accounted for 628,299 barrels. During the first four months of the current year, the all-Canada production aggregated 2,133,072 barrels as compared with 3,352,927 in the comparable period of 1941.

Production of natural gas during April was 4,363,245,000 cubic feet, compared with 4,579,865,000 in March and 4,269,082,000 in April, 1941. For the first four months of the present year, production totalled 19,805,485,000 cubic feet as compared with 20,306,725,000 in the corresponding period of 1941.

JUST IN CONFIDENCE

A minister was asked to preach at a chapel about six miles from his home. He took his wife with him, entering by the main door and her husband by the vestry door. A deacon found the lady at a seat and brought her a hymn book. After the service he again went to her in a friendly manner and said, "I hope you shall have the pleasure of seeing you here again. We have some very nice services here, but," he added in an undertone, "it isn't very often we get such a poor speaker in the pulpit as the one we've had tonight."

German Reparations

Shall Be In Kind And Not In Money, It Is Stated

The German reparations policy being formulated at Potsdam will bear little if any resemblance to the unsuccessful one imposed on Germany after World War I, well informed officials said.

In the first place, it has long been agreed by the major Allies that reparations this time shall be "in kind" and not in money. That policy already has been followed in Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

The emphasis after World War I was on money. The overwhelming desire then was to make Germany "pay" the cost of the war.

The emphasis this time will be on goods, materials and equipment which Germany now possesses or can produce without rejuvenating her war or heavy industries.

The Allies find themselves now a lot more interested in obtaining from Germany things to reconstruct their own devastated countries than in an impressive monetary figure which experience has shown can not be collected.

Nevertheless, the tendency is to attempt to evaluate German reparations. Some qualified guesses indicate that the reparations "in kind" which the Allies expect to get from Germany within a few years may come near in value to the money they once tried to collect over a long period.

The Paris peace conference of 1919 did not set the amount of German reparations. It demanded "an advance payment" of 20,000,000,000 marks (about $4,500,000,000) by May, 1921, when a commission was to set the overall sum. That figure turned out to be 132,000,000,000 marks, or about $31,000,000,000.

Germany actually paid only $1,700,000, according to the figures of the reparations commission. Even the principal ultimately was reduced to fewer than $100,000,000 by the Dawes and Young plans.

Estimates that the value of World War II reparations "in kind" may be about two-thirds of the World War I figure are based in part on a Russian proposal early this year.

At the Yalta conference, according to official sources, Russia proposed that Germany pay $20,000,000,000 worth of reparations and 25 per cent. each—all three to turn over some of their share of the materials and equipment received to other United Nations.

Availability of supplies and supplies is the factor that will decide when sugar rationing can be terminated, a Price Board official said. The rationing definitely will continue through 1946, but it is not possible at this stage to judge whether it will be necessary to extend it into 1947.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

IN PRAISE OF VOLUNTEERS

Without volunteers none of the great reforms of history would ever have been achieved, writes Dr. Gordon Bates, editor in the current issue of Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada.

"The names of dozens of the leaders of great voluntary movements beaten up while he was a prisoner at Mariningburg, Poland. 'You were supposed to turn your back,' Kearns states. He has returned home after being reported missing at Dieppe and then killed in action."

And yet in our modern day and age, in our effort to improve civilization by building up a formal governmental machinery, there is a tendency to forget the importance of the influence of the individual. A great English law lord once said that country will be greatest in which the greatest number of citizens undertake imposed obligations.

"If the principle here enunciated is sound, each citizen should spend a considerable part of his time working as a volunteer for the good of his community and his country. The volunteer associations working for the common good, need the best brains of the country if their aims are to be achieved with reasonable speed. They need the assistance and advice of trained men and women, many of whom have been accustomed in the past to work for themselves or for private interests.

In the new world, every business man, every civil servant should grasp the opportunity to do the things he is not, and to do, to devote all the time he can spare to the service of his fellow man.

"The new world should be a world created by the volunteer, a world in which 'we do not wait for governments to act and then blame them for doing the wrong thing, but a democratic world in which governments act because the people ask them to act."

A study of the function and value of voluntary societies is how to make them stronger should be an immediate post-war project."

Foreman Of Lumber Camp Made His Report As Directed

Up in a lumber camp in the Northwest the foreman received orders from headquarters to effect certain changes in the form of his monthly report. Among other things, he was informed in no uncertain terms that all figures would have to be expressed in terms of percentages.

Among the 100 men working at the camp there arose many bitter complaints concerning the poor quality of food being served by the old bachelor cook who presided over the kitchen, and the owner of the camp finally dispatched two attractive young women to take his place.

On the first of the following month the foreman of the camp began his report to headquarters with these words: "Gentlemen: I beg to inform you that there has been an important development at this camp. Last week two per cent. of the men married 100 per cent. of the cooks."

MOST OF US DON'T KNOW

Hardly anyone—not even the publisher—knows how important a newspaper is to a community.

The smaller the town, the more important the newspaper is in its economic life. Its news, editorials and feature stories focus the interest of surrounding territory on the place in which the paper is published.

This force and the force of advertisements by local merchants build an ever-widening trade area. This means more business, more money for schools, homes and churches—a bigger and better town.

A town with a newspaper is a town with a future. The better the paper, the brighter the future.

It deserves the support of every business man in that town.

We are trying to make this paper worthy of our town. Your help and suggestions are appreciated.
